Introduction of 2012 Subaru Forester:

The Subaru Forester is a crossover vehicle that blends many of the best attributes of a sport-utility vehicle with the ride and driving dynamics of a car. For 2012, the Subaru Forester now comes with a standard height-adjustable passenger seat and a new optional navigation system with added functionality. This is a sporty and spacious 4 door, 5 passenger SUV. It features an automatic transmission, all-wheel drive, and a 2.5 liter 4 cylinder engine. Subaru occupies a unique position among other, more conventional automakers. Subaru filled the Foresters interior with all the amenities, such as: 17 inch alloy wheels, moon roof, blue tooth, power windows and locks, heated seats, heated wiper blades and mirrors, remote keyless entry, cruise control, air conditioning, and tilt steering wheel. Subaru kept the safety and security of its passengers in mind with equipment such as: Dual front impact air bags with occupant sensing airbag, overhead air bag, traction control, 4 wheel disc brakes with ABS, panic alarm and a security system.

The 2012 Subaru Forester has one of the most comfortable rides in the segment. Its crisp steering and tight turning circle also make it surprisingly maneuverable in close quarters. Both engine choices are highly competitive in terms of power and fuel economy, although an automatic transmission with more gears than the Forester's four would make a big difference.

What Experts Have To Say..

Thanks to plenty of interior room and available turbocharged power, the 2012 Subaru Forester is a top pick in the highly competitive small-crossover-SUV segment..it offers standard all-wheel drive, roomy cabin with ample cargo space, comfortable ride and strong turbocharged engine on XT trims..a no-nonsense mini-SUV for those who need the versatility of a small wagon with the grip of all-wheel drive.

-- Edmunds

According to the U.S. Insurance Institute for Highway Safety (IIHS) front crash tests, the Forester was the only SUV in its class to be rated 'Good'.

-- Canadian Driver

Subaru makes one of the best all-wheel-drive systems in the world, rivaled only by Porsche and Audi.

-- New Car Test Drive

...terrific, huge power sunroof that opens over the front and rear seats.
