In anticipation of National Blood Donor Week, Future Electronics recently held a successful blood drive at their headquarters in collaboration with HÃ©ma-QuÃ©bec, helping to contribute to the replenishment of blood reserves in the province.

Message

Montreal, Canada (prsafe) June 20, 2024 - Future Electronics, a global leader in electronic component distribution, kicked off National Blood Donor Week through a collaborative blood drive with HÃ©ma-QuÃ©bec. This event was organized to support HÃ©ma-QuÃ©bec's mission of maintaining an optimal reserve of blood donations for the province's population.

HÃ©ma-QuÃ©bec collaborates with hospitals and health centers across Quebec to collect and distribute blood donations, playing a crucial role in saving lives. The recent blood drive at Future Electronics' headquarters aimed to contribute to this vital cause by encouraging employees to donate blood.

On June 10th during the National Blood Drive Week, Future Electronics employees showed the power of compassion by filling all donation spots and contributing 47 units of blood to Hema Quebec.

To show appreciation for the donors, all those who participated on June 10 were offered a free lunch in the cafeteria. Future Electronics is grateful for the overwhelming support and participation from our employees. Their generosity and commitment to this cause are truly commendable, and we look forward to more collaborations with HÃ©ma-QuÃ©bec in the future.
