Message

Montreal, Canada (prsafe) November 6, 2025 - Future Electronics, a global leader in electronics distribution, is proud to announce the launch of a dynamic digital campaign spotlighting Infineon's cutting-edge Machine Learning at the Edge solutions. This initiative highlights how Infineon's Edge AI portfolio is transforming industries through intelligent, connected systems that drive innovation and improve everyday life.

The campaign will feature interactive content, technical insights, and real-world applications across key sectors:

â€¢ Automotive: Enhancing safety and efficiency with ADAS and autonomous driving technologies powered by real-time edge ML.

â€¢ Industrial Automation: Boosting productivity and precision through predictive maintenance and anomaly detection.

â€¢ Smart Home & Building Automation: Creating secure, energy-efficient environments with adaptive, learning-based systems.

Future Electronics invites engineers, designers, and innovators to explore how Infineon's Edge AI solutions are shaping the future of intelligent systems.

The campaign will be available across Future Electronics' digital platforms, including newsletters, webinars, and social media.
