Summary

Robert Miller, President of Future Electronics, congratulated the company's Belgium branch, which is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year.

Message

Montreal, Canada (prsafe) May 20, 2021 - Future Electronics, a global leading distributor of electronic components, recently celebrated the 25th anniversary of the company's office in Belgium.

Future Electronics was founded in Montreal in 1968 by company President Robert Miller. The company expanded into the United States in 1972, opening its first American office in Boston.

The first Belgian office opened its doors in 1996, and after a few changes of location, it has been firmly established in Aalst for the past five years. "One of the key pillars of our success is our demand creation activity," said Branch Manager Aram Van Dessel.

The continued sales growth of the branch has resulted in ongoing investment and the addition of new resources to ensure the team's ability to continue providing the excellent service for which Future Electronics is known.

"Over the last 25 years we have proven the unique benefits that Future Electronics can offer its customers and suppliers," Van Dessel said. "We look forward to continued success for the next 25 years."

Robert Miller, President of Future Electronics, congratulated the Belgian team on their 25-year milestone, and thanked everyone for their contributions to the success of the branch.
