Saudi Arabia Event Management as a Service Market Synopsis

Saudi Arabia Event Management as a Service Market grew considerably during 2018-2019 owing to the rising number of music festivals, public events, wedding planning, birthday parties, fundraising events and conferences among others in the kingdom. However, covid 19 resulted in drop in market revenues for the year 2020 owing to the suspension and restriction of public gatherings to curb the spread of virus. However, steady growth is expected in the forecast period as Saudi Arabia has been working hard to create a one-of-a-kind and world-class entertainment hub that includes innovative, cultural or historical attractions, and mega sporting events, which is expected to create more growth opportunities for the event management as a service market. Furthermore, the hospitality industry has seen several major development announcements, such as Al Qiddiya's master plan in Riyadh, which aims to project the city's position as the 'Capital of Entertainment, Sports, and the Arts,' as well as the Red Sea and Amaala projects, which will further propel the market. Saudi Arabia Event Management As A Service Market size is projected to grow at a CAGR of 8.3% during 2022-2030. Saudi Arabia intends to transform Riyadh into a major global city economy by 2030 and hopes to attract a similar level of private sector investment as the kingdom continues to diversify its economy and raise non-oil earnings. According to media sources, approximately three million square metres of new office space, as well as more than 12,000 hotel rooms, are being developed in the capital with an estimated cost of $63 billion. Hence, with an increasing corporate and hospitality sector demand for business and luxury events is expected to rise, strengthening the event management service market, particularly in the corporate and individual sectors. Event Management as a Service Market by End Users Analysis

Within End Users, Corporate sector acquired more than 62% of the Saudi Arabia Event Management as a Service market share in terms of revenue in 2021 due to the rising number of exhibitions, seminars and product launches events in the country and the same trend is expected in the upcoming years as well. In addition, the demand for business gatherings and networking events is also driving the corporate event management service market in the Saudi Arabia. Key Attractiveness of the Report
