Message

Montreal, Canada (prsafe) August 7, 2024 - Future Electronics is thrilled to announce that Alex Chequer, Manager of Digital Marketing, successfully completed an Ironman triathlon on July 21, 2024, in Lake Placid, New York.

This challenging endurance event is renowned for its grueling combination of a 2.4-mile swim, a 112-mile bike ride, and a 26.2-mile marathon run. Athletes must complete these three segments within a strict time limit, typically 17 hours. Everyone who finishes the race receives a medal.

Alex's achievement is a testament to his commitment, physical fitness, mental toughness and dedicated training. Completing an Ironman requires months of rigorous training, a well-planned nutrition strategy, and exceptional endurance. Alex's journey reflects his ability to push through physical and mental barriers to achieve his goals.

"Anything truly meaningful requires effort and perseverance; nothing worthwhile is given freely," he said when asked about his experience.

Alex is not the first member of Future Electronics' Digital Marketing & E-Commerce team to complete an Ironman. A few years ago, another team member also finished this formidable race, showcasing the remarkable spirit and resilience within the team.

This Ironman event is one of the most challenging endurance races globally, organized by the Ironman brand, which holds competitions almost weekly worldwide. Alex's participation in this event exemplifies the values that Future Electronics holds dear. His perseverance and dedication are qualities that the company encourages in all its employees, both in their personal and professional lives.

"Alex's accomplishment of completing an Ironman triathlon is truly inspiring. His determination and grit remind us that with hard work and perseverance, we can achieve our biggest goals, both in and out of the workplace," said Georgia Genovezos, Corporate Vice President of Digital Marketing.

Future Electronics remains committed to nurturing the growth and success of its employees, celebrating their milestones, and encouraging them to pursue excellence in all endeavors.
