Summary
Premier Psychiatry in Ennis provides patient-focused psychiatric care for anxiety, depression, bipolar disorder, treatment-resistant depression, and other mental health concerns, with advanced options including TMS and SpravatoÂ® when appropriate.

Message
Premier Psychiatry in Ennis provides evidence-based mental health care for adults experiencing anxiety, depression, bipolar disorder, mood changes, treatment-resistant depression, and other psychiatric concerns. The clinic focuses on understanding each patientâ€™s symptoms, medical history, previous treatments, and personal goals before recommending suitable care options. Mayur Patel, MD provides psychiatric evaluations, medication management, and ongoing follow-up for a range of mental health conditions. His approach emphasizes clear communication and individualized treatment planning so patients can better understand their condition and available treatment options. For patients who may need additional treatment options, Premier Psychiatry may offer advanced therapies such as Transcranial Magnetic Stimulation (TMS) and SpravatoÂ® (esketamine) when clinically appropriate. These treatments may be considered for certain patients with depression, including those who have not experienced enough improvement with previous approaches. Premier Psychiatry is committed to creating a supportive environment where patients can discuss symptoms such as persistent worry, panic, low mood, difficulty concentrating, sleep changes, and other emotional concerns. Treatment plans are based on individual needs and may be adjusted over time according to progress and clinical response. Through psychiatric evaluation, medication management, and advanced treatment options, Premier Psychiatry in Ennis aims to help patients manage symptoms, improve emotional well-being, and support better daily functioning.
