Summary

Future Electronics held a LifeWorks webinar on sleep issues for all their employees on Wednesday, October 20, 2021

Message

Montreal, Canada (prsafe) November 1, 2021 - Future Electronics, a global leading distributor of electronic components, recently offered a LifeWorks webinar about sleep issues from their Montreal headquarter.

'Dealing with Sleep Issues' was part of Future's wellness program, and was open to all employees of Future Electronics and Future Lighting Solutions.

The webinar began by exploring sleep disorders and their various causes. The relationship between sleep quality and stress was also examined, and the role of cortisol was addressed. Participants also learned different strategies for dealing with insomnia.

LifeWorks is Future's employee assistance provider. It offers Future employees and their immediate families 24/7 access to confidential support and resources to help manage virtually any personal or professional issue, so they can lead healthier, happier, more productive lives.
