Summary

Tactical Pro Supply is a popular US clothing store that sells patriotic apparel for low prices.

Message

Patriotic clothing is often seen around 4th of July and other public events which honor the spirit of the brave men and women in uniform. As a citizen, supporting veterans is a national duty, and citizens should show their support in whichever ways are possible. Tactical Pro Supply, a popular online US clothing store that sells patriotic apparel, is doing its part by donating a portion of its sales proceeds to various veterans causes. This program has helped thousands of honorable soldiers in need. "Giving back to those who have sacrificed so much for their country is something every citizen of this great nation should partake in. Our business is doing what it can. For example, we donate a portion of each sale to support the PTSD Foundation. Apart from supporting veterans, our business also aims to support local economies, and such is why our manufacturing is done 100% in the USA. From designing and printing to packaging and shipping, the entire process is carried out within our borders. This coming from Tactical Pro Supply's Chief Executive Officer. This online store sells all types of grunt clothing, including 4th of July apparel, military t-shirts, hoodies, leggings, and American hats with flag patches. "Each piece of apparel displays patriotism, as many include American flag patches while others have military-related images. Furthermore, someone who shops with us can be proud when they do so, as a portion of the sale will go to support veterans. We don't import clothes from other countries, as we'd rather have everything produced locally here in the USA," says a spokesperson for Tactical Pro Supply. Orders can be placed online and there are always exciting discounts to take advantage of, especially around patriotic holidays and other special occasions. Shipping is free on orders above $70.
