The latest episode in Future Electronics' TechVentures series explores the capabilities of the Panasonic Gatekeeper board.

Message

Montreal, Canada (prsafe) March 22, 2022 - Future Electronics, a global leading distributor of electronic components, will soon release the latest video in their TechVentures series.

What do a doorbell and a patient monitor have in common? They can both be powered by Panasonic RF solutions! The latest TechVentures episode explores the Gatekeeper doorbell board, a reference design created by Panasonic and Future Electronics.

The Gatekeeper contains five different Panasonic components including a PIR sensor and the PAN1781 module, which features high throughput of 2 Mbps, long range and direction finding, and supports Bluetooth mesh, Thread and Zigbee protocols.

TechVentures with Lazina is a series of engaging and informative videos that explore the latest applications of Future's cutting-edge sensors and wireless connectivity portfolio. TechVentures is hosted by Lazina Rahman, a Technical Marketing Engineer at Future Electronics.
