Message

Montreal, Canada (prsafe) June 13, 2022 - Future Electronics, a global leading distributor of electronic components, is featuring advanced horticulture LEDs from Lumileds in the latest edition of THE EDGE - Intelligent Lighting.

The Lumileds LUXEON SunPlus HPE is a high power, deep-red (660nm) LED which achieves the highest PPF and PPE from its industry standard 3.5mm square ceramic package.

Designed specifically for the horticulture lighting industry, the new deep-red LED is part of the SunPlus portfolio that covers a broad range of wavelengths and colors, including white, purple, and lime, in a variety of mid-power, high-power, and CoB packages.

LUXEON SunPlus is a single portfolio engineered to address the full breadth of horticulture lighting applications, offering growers flexibility to create the specific lighting mix required for various types of crops.
