Moreover, various foreign home interior platforms are expanding their services in the country, which is also a contributing factor in the increasing growth of this market. For instance, in 2021, Livspace, an Indian omnichannel home interior platform, expanded its services to Middle East, starting with Saudi Arabia, where it had formed a joint venture with the Alsulaiman Group (ASG). The company also announced a USD 25 million investment in the joint venture ASG, the county's operating partner for the Swedish furniture retailer Ikea. Moreover, the growing hospitality sector is another major factor contributing to the growth of furniture market in Saudi Arabia at a higher rate. The country's tourism industry has seen growth, which has impacted its furniture market. According to the United Nations World Travel Organization (UNWTO) Barometer, Saudi Arabia experienced a startling +121% increase in international tourism in July 2022 compared to July 2019. Moreover, due to the rapid expansion of hotel development projects, furniture sales in the nation have surged. This factor is expected to continue to have a favorable effect on the expansion of the furniture market in the nation. Rising Preference for Customized Furniture to Fuel the Market Growth

The market growth has been significantly influenced by Saudi Arabia's rising internet penetration, which reached around 97.9% in 2021. The young people of Saudi Arabia prefer to change the aesthetics of their homes by combining international furniture designs, using the internet's global furniture ideas to create their furniture. They are able to get customizations in the furniture according to their comfort and preferences. Therefore, the product and the environment develop uniqueness due to the customizations. Hence, this factor is expected to fuel the furniture market in the nation around the forecast period. Rapid Change in Purchasing Pattern to Expand the Market Growth

The Saudi population is renewing their furniture more regularly these days, and therefore cycle of furniture replacement has gotten shorter with time. Due to yearly or every two years change in furniture, there is a greater demand for furniture products among consumers in the country. Also, consumers in Saudi Arabia spent around USD 50.95 million on furniture in the first week of July 2022. Furthermore, rising disposable income is also a factor prompting consumers to purchase furniture more frequently. This factor is expected to significantly contribute to the increasing demand of furniture in the country. Rising Homeownership to Boost the Market Growth

Construction activity has increased significantly in the past few years in Saudi Arabia. Moreover, the Saudi Arabian government has started a number of initiatives to encourage home ownership and housing construction. This is encouraging individuals to purchase homes, which is fueling a rise in furniture sales across the nation. Furthermore, in order to encourage home ownership, several Saudi Arabian finance companies are now extending their benchmark mortgage maturity. For instance, The Saudi Real Estate Refinance Co (SRC) announced in 2021 that the benchmark for mortgages in the country had been extended to a 30-year duration. Mortgage lenders can supply affordable house finance faster due to the longer tenure, which encourages Saudi citizens to purchase houses.
